

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

December 20, 2017

Marble Arch Research Inc. and Consulting for Strategic Growth 1 Ltd.
Join Forces to Aid Emerging Growth Companies

Atlanta, Georgia---Marble Arch Research, Inc., a leading source of research, investor relations, and roadshows for privately-held, pre-IPO companies and Consulting for Strategic Growth 1 Ltd. (CSFG1), a leader in investor and media relations and corporate development consulting, are pleased to announce an important joint venture that has already borne significant fruit. Launched in September 2017, the two organizations have successfully leveraged their resources and capabilities to assist early stage companies with funding opportunities and exit strategies.

With decades of hands-on experience and broad personal outreach in the private and public investment communities, CSFG1 specializes in the development of access to capital for early-stage growth companies. This unmatched positioning has already resulted in significant inroads to potential funding on behalf of several Marble Arch Research clients.

As part of the joint venture, Marble Arch Research is offering research, investor relations, and roadshow services to select CSFG1 clients and contacts in an effort to expedite their visibility and funding efforts. The Company's "Private to Public" model includes company-sponsored Wall Street quality research reports that carry 3rd party valuations and roadshows with leading early stage investors and investment banks. This approach can substantially reduce prospective funders' due diligence process and potentially enhance portfolio company valuations.

Commenting about the relationship, Stan Wunderlich CEO of CSFG, stated, "We have searched for many years for the ideal research alliance partner who could provide pristine, research for a moderate price, and work with our team to enhance relationships with our large data base of alliance partners. We have witnessed firsthand that a strong one-two punch can help small private and public companies navigate the dangerous perils of Wall Street. 2018 will be an exciting year."

Michael Price, Founder and Managing Director of Marble Arch Research also commented on the landmark joint venture, “We could not be more pleased than to have a partner such as CSFG1. In just a few weeks, Stanley Wunderlich and his team have already proven that their effectiveness is unmatched and is a direct result of their reputation and deep contacts in the capital markets arena. We look forward to continued success for Marble Arch Research and CSFG1 clients in 2018.”
